

Subject: Safety Data Sheet Exemption

Product(s): H9200 Hemo-QC

Dear Customer:

It is our policy to provide Safety Data Sheets (SDS) for any Hemo bioscience Inc. products that are classified as hazardous materials. The product(s) listed above do not contain hazardous substances at or above national or international regulatory thresholds that would require an SDS. Under normal conditions of use, these products would not expose the user to a chemical hazard as defined by OSHA Hazard Communication Standard paragraph (g) of 29 CFR 1910.1200.

Please Note: Since some of our products may contain biological materials, we recommend using universal precautions when handling these products. Biological materials are exempt from regulations governing chemical hazards and Safety Data Sheets.

For more information on these products please refer to the Instructions for Use (IFU).

Please contact the Technical Support Department at (866) 332-2835 or info@hemobioscience.com if you have questions or require additional assistance.
